MATTERS OF INTEREST IN MANY LANDS. ERCONSTRUCTION IN EGYPT-ARRESTED ON AC-COUNT OF THE PHOENIX PARK MURDERS-UN-VEILING A STATUE TO THE PRINCE IMPERIAL-

GAMBETTA'S BURIAL, The London cable letter to THE TRIBUNE eays that Lord Granville's hote to the Powers gives great satisfaction. No point for a conference is offered in it. Much interest is centred on the relations of England and France. The Zulu question is still unsettled, and grave anxiety is caused over Lord Kimberly's policy. Mr. Gladstone's illness is due to a cold and want of sleep. Many arrests have been made in Dublin in connection with the Phoenix Park assassinations. The Prince of Wales unveiled the statue to the Prince Imperial at Woolwich. M. Gambetta was buried in Nice. In Rome 125 arrests have been made for high treason. The floods in South Hungary have assumed greater proportions.

TOPICS IN THE BRITISH CAPITAL. [BY CABLE TO THE TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Jan. 13 .- Lord Granville's Note to the European Powers, which was presented at Stamboul yesterday, gives great satisfaction. Contrary to general expectation, it sketches the entire plan of reconstruction in Egypt. The cardinal features are the abolition of the Control, the appointment of a European Finance Minister to assist the Khedive, and the plans for the freedom of the Suez Canal. The latter have been already approved at Berlin, Vienna and Rome. The Porte is known to be most conciliatory. It has entirely changed its attitude since the abandonment of Arabi's trial, and is gratified by Lord Granville's desire to recognize the Sultan's position in Egypt. Berlin heartily approves of the abolition of the Control. The French press is irritated, and the Duclere Cabinet sullen. Rome strongly desires to be in accord with England, the Italians preferring English financial administration to French.

NO CONFERENCE NEEDED.

This Note offers no point for a conference. England felt her way beforehand and Bismarck is favorable to anything she can accomplish. The Suez Canal scheme seems to have been already accepted and will probably be ratified at an early date.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE.

Political interest is now largely centred on the relations of England and France. The isolation of the latter is complete. Gambetta's death is already influencing affairs for the advantage of England, since in spite of their chagrin, both the French press and the Government recognize the futility of opposing England. French obstinacy is again defeating itself. By refusing joint military intervention France excluded herself from the right of aiding in the settlement. By declining the presidency of the reformed debt commission which was suggested by England, she permits Englishmen to control all the finances of Egypt. The issue of this impasse is uncertain. Probably the door is still open to France to accept the presidency of the debt commission,

THE ZULU QUESTION STILL UNSETTLED.

Lord Kimberley's policy in South Africa causes grave anxiety. Cetewayo's arrival at Durnford s no enthusiasm among the Zulus, who are still hiding women and cattle. Colonists are equally disturbed at the prospect. The Home Government is also apprehensive and is contemplating the dispatch of troops. It is possible that Lord Derby may considerably modify his predecessor's plans.

MR. GLADSTONE'S CONDITION.

Mr.Gladstone's itlness is the chief subject of home interest. His illness is solely due to a cold and to the want of sleep. The latter is serious, since hitherto Mr. Gladstone has commanded sleep at will, like Bonaparte. Mr. Gladstone has always been able to sleep anywhere and at any time. The family are not anxious respecting him, and no doctor is in regular attendance. Avoidance of work and a change to a southern climate are expected to effect a complete restoration of his health.

DISAPPOINTMENT AT MIDLOTHIAN.

The abandonment of the Midlothian campaign causes great disappointment, but Mr. Gladstone's special journey to Midlothian has pleased his constituents, though it cannot supply that revelation of Ministerial policy which was indicated in Mr. Gladstone's letter to Lord Rosebery.

Numerous arrests by the Dublin police consequent on reports of a new murder plot have created fresh anxiety here, but the affair appears to be only auother effort to shake off the authorities, who are gradually gaining the upper hand. It is satisfactory to learn that the Government are getting at the secrets of the conspirators and have prevented the execution of a plot.

Meanwhile the Government are seeking to appoint an Irishman Under Secretary at Dublin Castle. It is hoped that some well-known Irish Liberal member will accept the position.

The distress among the peasantry is increasing, but in spite of the clamors of the Nationalists and the better informed representations of the Roman Catholic Bishops the Government decline to give out relief or to institute public works. The present mild weather favors this decison.

The ghest of Miles Joyce, the murderer, is the latest witness against Saxon tyranny. As the warders of Galway Jail have made application for a transfer to another prison, it is probable that the ghost carries a musket and uses threats. Lord Spencer has personally undertaken the maintenance of the two boys, who are the only remaining members of the Joyce family massacred in County

THE PHŒNIX PARK ASSASSINATIONS. IANY PERSONS ARRESTED-THE KNIVES USED IN

THE MURDERS FOUND-FIVE OF THE PRISONERS TO BE EXAMINED AS WITNESSES.

DUBLIN, Jan. 13 .- There were many arrests here ast evening and this morning under the Crimes Act. A number of the persons arrested had arms in their possession. The arrests were effected in various parts of the city. The prisoners are principally of the artisan class, but one of them is Mr. Carey, a member of the municipality He was arrested at midnight in his own house on the south side of the city, and conveyed to the College Street Station under a strong escort. The prisoners are charged with conspiracy to murder. The arrests were made in consequence of secret information received last week that a number of persons belonging to a secret society had held a special meeting in Dublin and resolved to assassinate certain of the more active members of the Dublin police force. Two of the conspirators turned informers. Mr. Carey is a well-known and prominent Nationalist. He had been previously arrested under Mr. Foster's Coercion Act. It is not believed that he is connected with the assassination party. The prisoners were remanded. The magistrates refused bail. Mr. Carey said the conspiracy was on the beach, and threatened an action for false im-

It is understood that the arrests were the result of a private investigation which has been conducted during the last six weeks at the Castle. The police have fruitlessly searched various places in the city for arms and ammunition.

Later .- Seventeen of the persons arrested here to day had been examined at a private investigation at Dublin Castle. Some of them had signed depositions, others were not asked to sign and some were not sworn. Several of them have been imwere not sworn. Several of them have been imprisoned under Mr. Forster's act, on suspicion of being concerned in murders committed here, two of them for the Phœnix Park crime. The knives used in the Phœnix Park murders were found behind the house of one of the prisoners. The authorities, finding that there was no chance of bringing home guit to any of them, decided to group all the men alinded to by the informers in a general charge of conspiracy. It is rumored that five of the accused persons will be examined next week as witnesses. The police have warrants for the arrest of five other persons.

BURIAL OF M. GAMBETTA.

Paris, Jan. 13.-The remains of Gambetta arrived at Nice as 7:30 o'clock this morning and were received at the depot by the Prefect, the Mayor, the Municipal Council, and a guard of honor composed of the Fire Brigade. The seals were then renoved from the saloon carriage containing the body, and the coffin was deposited in one of the principal waiting-rooms, which had been especially fitted up for the occasion.

A large number of people visited the depot to view the body. Detachments from the various French ships-of-war in the harvor disembarked for the purpose of participating in the funeral proces-

Notwithstanding the representations of M. Gambetta's friends, in which the Mayor of Nice did not concur, deprecating the delivery of speeches over the grave, two were delivered—one by the Mayor and the other by the Prefect. All the shops remained open during the funeral and the town generally preserved its usual specarance.

NICE, Jan. 13.-The funeral procession, instead of going directly to the cemetery, made a long detour of the streets, greatly to the annoyance of the relatives of M. Gambetta. On arriving at the cem-etery the coffin was placed on a catafalque of rather theatrical appearance, at the foot of which three theatrical appearance, at the foot of which three orations were delivered. General de Behemare, commander of the Twenty-ninth Division, briefly bade a lastf arewell to the great patriot. The Mayor said Nice was proof to receive as a precious trust the illustrious remains of Gambetta. The privilege which had been gradged her enabled her to attest her Freuch Republican sentiments. The Freiest said a voice from the tomb cried: "Forget barren rivaries: think of France always and only of rivalries; think of France always and only of France."

After these speeches a member of the Gambetta family requested that there be no more. At nightfall the crowd continued to file past the catalalque without any sign of diminishing, and M. Gambetta's friends in the absence of the Municipal Councillors, who had retired, had to interfere and order that the collin be lowered into the family vault. Rain and a cold wind prevailed during the funeral.

MEMORIAL OF THE PRINCE IMPERIAL.

LONDON, Jan. 13 .- The Prince of Wales to-day unveiled the statue, at the Royal Military Academy at Woolwich, which was erected to the memory of the French Prince Imperial by the subscriptions of 25,000 officers and men of the British army, at a cost of £4.310

The Prince was accompanied by his two sons, and by the Dukes of Edinburgh and Cambridge. The Queen sent two wreaths. General Lord Wolseley, Prince Lucien Bonaparte, the Duc de Bassano and a large and distinguished company assisted at the

In his remarks, the Prince of Wales said: "It is obvious that this short ceremony is not a political one in any sense of the word. We are inaugurating a monument to the memory of a young and gallant a monument to the memory of a young and gailant prince who fell, fighting for the Queen of England. His virtues, his blameless life, his courage, his obsdience to orders will always prove a bright example to the cadets educated at Woolwich, who, when they gaze on the statue inaugurated to-day, will see the features of the young and brave prince who died with his face to the fee."

The Prince of Wales afterward distributed the Egyptian medal to the patients in the Herbert Hospital.

THE FLOODS IN EUROPE.

PESTH, Jan. 13 .- The floods in South Hungary are assuming greater proportions. The town of Neusatz, on the Danube, is submerged. Lombor, on the Francis Canal, and Simlin and Pariscova, on the Danube, are in imminent danger, as are also a number of villages.

The Central Committee of the German Inundation Relief Fund met yesterday afternoon at Steinway Hall, in Fourteenth-st. Sigismund Kaufman presided. The con tee were met by a delegate from the Brewers' Relief Committee, who signified the intention of the latter to forward their subscriptions, amounting to $8,000, through the Central Committee. It was further decided to open two branch offices for the taking of subscrip. tions; one at Turn Hail, in East Fourth-st., near the Bowery, and the other at F. Hendrick's, No. 955 Third-Bowery, and the other at F. Hendrick's, No. 995 Thirday.

Over $4,000 is deposited in the name of the committee at the German Bank, of which $3,363 came through The Staats-Zeitung. The lists will be closed on February 15, when it is expected that the sum available for transmission to Germany will be in excess of $100,000. ARRESTED FOR HIGH TREASON.

ROME, Jan. 13 .- The police last evening made domiciliary visits to 135 houses and arrested 125 persons. They also made sixty-two seizures of newspapers containing revolutionary accounts of Overdank's life and so-called martyrdom. It is declared that the arrests will lead to the discovery of important information. A trial for high treason is impending.

THE COUNTESS SAN ANTONIO'S SUIT. PARIS, Jan. 13 .- The first Chamber of the Civil Court of the Seine has declared itself incompetent to act in the suit of the Countess San Antonio, noe Martinez Campos, to obtain from her husband, who is the son of Marshal Serrano, of Spain, an allowance of 100,000 francs per annum, as well as 50,000 france to defray the expenses of her appeal to the Roman Curia for an annulment of her marriage, which a Paris court, to which she had applied pro-nounced itself incompetent to grant.

The Countess San Antonio nee Martinez Campos, endeavored to obtain the annulment of her marriage with her young husband, for reasons which are not easy to explain. The Count San Antonio and his family declare that there is not the slightest foundation for the pretext assigned, and that the lady's behavior is due to the influence exercised over her by one of the maid servants. The affair was brought before one of the Parls courts, which pronounced itself incompetent to decide a question in which both the plaintiff and the defendant were foreigners. The Counters San Autonio continued to live apart from her husband, notwithstanding efforts on his and his father's part to induce her to return to her nome. Marshal Serrano also did his utmost to persuade her to dismiss the offensive soubrette, but she persisted in her conduct and rejected every attempt at a compro

WRECK OF AN EMIGRANT SHIP.

LONDON, Jan. 13.-A dispatch, dated Portaferry. Courty Down, Ireland, says the British ship Wild Deer, bound from Glasgow to New-Zealand with 200 passengers, is ashore at North Rock, Cloughey, and will become a total wreck. Her mainmost is gone. The passengers have been safely landed. The prospects for salvage are unfavorable.

PESTH, Jan. 13 .- A pamphlet entitled "Russia and the War" is published here, and has excited considerable comment. The author is a prominent member of the Hungarian Opposition. He asserts that ever since the Berlin Congress Russia has been determined on war with Austria, and that the latter's army is numerically manequate.

THE RUINS OF THE NEWHALL HOUSE. THIRTY-NINE BODIES FOUND-THE NUMBER LOST SUPPOSED TO BE 82-STATEMENTS OF THE SURVIVORS.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 13 .- The search among the ruins of the Newhall House this forenoon resulted in the finding of three bodies, all burned beyond identification. This makes eight bodies found in the ruins so far and thirty victims. It is supposed that the bodies of most of those burned will be found near the area at the back of the office. In the course of the afternoon's work eight little neaps of charted flesh and bones were found, supposed to represent as many bodies and were taken out. This makes sixteen bodies found. Lizzie Augland, a dining-room girl, died this afternoon from the effects of injuries received by jumping from a six-story window. Daniel Miniman, bell-boy, is among the missing. Thomas Cleary and Patrick Conroy, bell-boys, are safe. Taking the chief clerk's statement that there were 110 guests and 67 employes in the hotel as correct, there must be 43 bodies yet in the ruins, as 95 are known to have been saved, 23 dead bodies have been identified, and 16 bodies, charred beyond identification, have been recovered, making the total loss of life, as near as can be estimated, 82. The excavations have now reached about twenty-five feet from the Broadway front. Until the main hall was reached the remains of four persons were found. As the occupants of the hotel would naturally leave their rooms and rush for the corridors, it is anticipated that the worst features of the fire will not be revealed until the excavation has proceeded fifteen feet further. It is predicted that the opening of the court in the centre will reveal a large number of bodies, as the inmates of the rooms opening on it would be forced by the flames to jump from the windows.

The servants' quarters were on the fifth floor, and ranged along the alley side of the building from a point about twenty feet north of Michigan-st. to a point about twenty feet south of the north end of the building, and the rooms were built along a hall which ran north and south and at each end was totally separated from the guests' apartments by heavy doors. The girls themselves say that the first they knew of the fire was when Linehan, the engineer, ran up and yelled to them to _ake up and run out and follow him and not wait to dress. He says that the hall was filled with the servants, and he thought that they were escaping. onsequently he made his way down, only to find that one was behind him. The rushing air, the mom tent after Linehan and the one girl got through the separating doors, closed them, and they never opened again. This also prevented the heat and moke from entering the servants' quarters, so that those who did not escape met death with a full realization of what was upon them, and were not half dead from suffocation.

Mary McAuley, who lies at the Axtell House in a nervous condition, and who was carried out in a faint by Fireman Strauss, says: "I was awakened by the shouts and screams of the others, and ran into the hall. It was full of garls rushing madly up and down, crying and screaming. I rushed to the end of the hall, peered through the doorway and saw that everything was smoke and fire outside. I then ran back, and, passing a room where seven garls had taken refuge, joined them, and we all kneit down in prayer. One of the girls had a crue fix, and a fat woman prayed out loud. Just as we had given up all hope, the window crashed in our room, and I fainted. It so happened that the fireman with a isdeer had found our room out of thirty others, and we, with a few others, were saued. I was sleeping in a room on the fourth floor, when about 3 o'cluck in the moreing I was awakened as if by the sound of musketry. The glass of the transom had broken and sineke and flame came rushing into my room. I did not open the door, but hastily slipping on some of my clothes I secured my watch and pocketbook and then opened the window. I saw a balcony a little distance off: so I got out and crawled along past two window slifs until I reached it. Then a Mr. Hill, of Syracuse, helped me over the rail. We two stood there together for a time. The scene was terrible. Bodies came flying down past us from the stories above, and we had to dodge to avoid being struck by them. Finally Mr. Hill and I got in through a window and made a line of the bed clothes, by means of which we crawled down to the story below, where the firemen came up and rescued us. Directly after us came Tom Thumb and his wife. At 5 o'clock in the morning I was driven to the Plankinton House with three others. I was the only conscious one of the four. The others had jumped. I had not. With the exception of a slightly burned toe I escaped unhart, but I have not yet recovered from the effects of that terrible night. My pulse and heart still beat feverishly.

STATE TREASURER POLK INDICTED.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 13 .- The Grand Jury of Davidson County at noon to-day presented an indict ment against Marshall T. Polk, Treasurer of Tennesse in two counts, for embezzlement and larceny of $480,000. The Judge of the Criminal Court will fix a charge of conspiracy upon certain persons for obtaining funds from Polk, knowing them to be funds of the State.

Polk arrived here this morning in charge of officers and will remain in custody until he is admitted to ball.

He refuses to talk.

The names of several New-York bankers and brokers were published yesterday in connection with the recent defaleation by the State Treasurer of Tennesses. One of the persons named in the dispatches was H. Victor Newcomb, formerly president of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company and for the last two or three years president of the United States National Bank of this city. Referring to the published statements Mr. Newcomb said yesterday : " I was not engaged last summer, or at any other time, in speculation in Louisville and Nashville stock with Colonel Polk. Some time in the spring of 1881, I think, was some talk about making this bank the fiscal agent of the State. Nothing came of it, and I have not seen Colonel Polk since that time, and I have held no communication with him. He used occasionally to make small loans at this bank, but they were made always through the cashier, in the regular order of business, and there was nothing in the character of them to excite suspicion; they were paid at maturity. Colonel Polk ceased his visits at the bank more than a year ago. He ceased his visits at the bank more than a year ago. In may have suffered heavy losses in speculating in Louis-ville and Nashville or in Memphis and Charleston stocks; but if he did I know nothing more about the matter than I have learned from the published reports. He certainly has lost nothing through me or this usuk."

At the offices of the stock brokerage firms whose names were mentioned in the published dispatches it was denied that the State Treasurer had kept any speculative account.

A SLEIGHING PARTY FATALLY INJURED.

A CLEVER COUNTERFEITER ARRAIGNED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 13.-Martin Kelly, who was arrested several days ago for complicity with William Saunders and Gilbert McBride for having in his possession counterfest silver coin, was arraigned this after noon. Officers from New-York testified that Kelly was arrested in Boston in 1880 for passing counterfeit money, that he made his escape, and was next caught in New York, that upon conviction in Roston he was sentenced to eighteen months' imprisonment, and that since his release he has been operating with a gang of countrieters in Troy, N. Y., and other places. The prisoner will be taken to New-York on a warrant.

BURNING HIS WIFE WITH HOT IRON.

SCRANTON, Penn., Jan. 13 .- One Quinnan, living on the outskirts of the city, having quarrelled much of late with his wife, determined to subdue her, He took her to a liquor shep, where she became intoxicated. Then harrying home he heated the stove covers and poker and waited her return, when, foreing her to the floor, he burned her with the covers and prodded her hips with the poker, burning her severely. An at-tempt was made by the police to arrest the husband, but they were opposed by the wife, who refused to appear against him, remarking that she would punish him in a manner surpassing that inflicted on her.

HOAD -BUTLER - THE STAGE - FINANCIAL BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

Dorron, Jan. 13.—The week closes with a dis-Serator Hoar. It is true that Thursday's " conference' (euphemistic for caucus) of Republican mem-bers of the Legislature refused to come to a ballot, but the speeches and the lobby gossip were all one way, with unimportant exceptions, and were a gratifying surprise to the Hoar men. The anti-Hoar men have apparently committed the blunder of "swapping horses in the middle of the stream"; that is, Crapo is their present candidate, and not Long. But Crapo says "no," and means it, while Long's silence meant that he was "willin'." The latter has decorously, if not seasonably, gone on a visit to his native place, in Maine. It makes no little difference to his chances that his political godfather (as Congressman), Oliver Ames, is not so certain as he was that Senator Hoar will antagonize Representative Long's move in the House to have the censure of Oakes Ames expunged, and if this object can have representatives in both houses of Congress, so much the better for it, so far as that is concerned. The changed feeling in regard to Mr. Hoar is illustrated in the remark of a country member at the conference: "Mr. Hoar belongs to a peculiar tribe, I know; I don't know as he ever kissed his wife or children, but he is a statesman." Another one dwelt on the figure he cut at the Chicago convention. As ex-Governor Talbot put it in an unexpected letter to the conference, "he is the ablest man in public life in this State." The opportunity pointed out to the Senator in the present session he has made the best possible use of, and his leadership in the bankruptcy and Presidential succession legislation and his vote for Fitz John Porter have made him all over again in the esteem of many recently lukewarm or hortile to him. As near as can be figured, he lacks only nine votes of a certainty, while any other candidate lacks at least forty, even with Butler's forces.

The week has also developed General Butler as a Presidential candidate. Inebriated with their triamphs in State and city elections the Butlerites converted the Andrew Jackson celebration on Tuesday into a "boom" for the National canvass. The Butler shibboieth, as announced, is to be "The Government belongs to its friends." To take advantage of the Democratic disgust with the Pendleton bili, and add to that force the discredited spoils politicians of the Republican party, already sympathetic with him, and cast out of the party in the recent revolution, would be good Batlerian politics. It should be noted that Butler's maugural message flouts Civil Service reform as a humbug, and that the recent Butler triumph in this city was on an audaciously avowed "spoils" platform. Note also that Butler announces in his message that he will not run here for a second term. He undoubtedly means to give some Demoerat the opportunity to be beaten for the succession just before the Presidential year, in order to point to himself as the only Democrat who can carry Massachusetts. The Eoston Post, ancient Demo-cratic organ of the State, is now in open revolt against Butler and denounces unreservedly his Presidential pretensions.

The production of Gounod's " Redemption " is to be the occasion of a cause célebré which will test whether a piano accompaniment can be expanded into an orchestral score without infringement on a nusical copyright. Theodore Thomas having sold to the Handel-Haydn Society for $1,000 the right to produce the work in Boston, naturally thinks it worth white to enjoin, it he can, the enterprising young Irish church-choir leader who is cutting in ahead of the old society, heretofore left as a matter of course to produce such works. Musical circles are aghast at the æsthetic impiety and crime contemplated against a masterwork in performing it with orchestration cobbled up by a theatre-band leader.

The first dividend just declared, amounts, with "rights," to more than that with a larger surplus left in the

POLITICS - THE STAGE - RAILROADS - THE

COURTS. [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 13 .- The Senatorial agony is over. Governor Cullom on the fifth ballot was nominated by the Republican caucus, receiving 63 votes, 54 being necessary to a choice. Oglesby held his own weil in the second place, Governor Culiom gaining his increase from Mr. Raum, who did not cut much of a figure after the first ballot. Oglesby was the Governor's only real competitor, a fact which tends to confirm the old rumor that Cullom will aid Raum in case he wants to be Governor in 1884. The ineligibility resolution which was introduced in the House, had no effect except to cause a reaction in Cullom's favor. It was at best only a brutum fulnen, exploded ten years ago in the case of Oglesby himself, who went from the Governorship to the Senate. Governor Cullom will not dazzle the country with brilliant statesmanship, but Illinois could not have a representative in the Senate better acquainted with her people and her needs, or a more practical, industrious and judicious worker. The terrible calamity in Milwaukee has stirred up the city authorities here and at the next meeting of the Council action will be taken looking to protection of life in hotels by improved fire-escapes, by placing telegraph wires under ground and by such appliances as may suggest themselves. Mrs. Langtry closed her two weeks' engagement to-day. While she has not been a success dramatically and has disappointed the public as a beauty, she has been attractive as a curiosity, and her manager has reason to feel satisfied, as he reports the gross receipts of the two weeks to have been $25 .-000. Making the customary allowances, it is safe to say that they were about $20,000. Mrs. Langtry has not been troubled with social duties during her stay, but she has seen a great deal of the city. She has been skating and sleigh-riding, and yesterday she took Mr. Gebhard to the stock yards and saw the process of pork killing and packing.

Mr. Abbey, who is in the city, has received dispatches from Madame Nilsson correcting the reports of her indisposition; she is in excellent health and Mr. Abbey will meet her at Atlanta, Ga.

From Langtry we jump to Italian opera without any intermission. Mr. Mapleson has caused a commotion in the city by the announcement made since the sale that season ticket-holders will hear Patti only once and Albani only once. The papers have teemed with communications from indignant, subscribers, and there is quite a tempest in the musical teapot, and all sorts of threats are made. Still the sale goes merrily on. The season sales amount to $13,000, the largest ever known here for one week, and the sales of the past two days will well the amount to
